

Lexington Immaculate Conception Church Study Group Resources

These are a collection of resources you may find helpful and informative to supplement our after-Mass study groups.

Web and Email List

- For study guides and the most recent class schedule, look for our webpages at <http://catholic.romanhords.com>.
- To receive the latest news about our group including any schedule or location changes for the class, you will want to be on our email list. Send an email to presuppositionalist@yahoo.com or stratiotes@romanhords.com to be added to the list.

Primary Study Text

We will concentrate on the Revised Standard Version, Catholic Edition (RSV-CE) for our primary scripture text in our studies. However, bring whatever translation you have since it is often helpful to compare different translations for a better understanding of a text. If you do not have an RSV translation and you wish to read ahead of class, you can find it at several websites. Two such websites are: <http://www.ewtn.com/devotionals/biblesearch.asp> and <http://www.blueletterbible.org/>.

Commentaries

There are two primary commentaries we will rely on for our studies. It is not necessary to purchase them but you may find them helpful in your personal study. We favor the Navarre Bible and Ignatius Bible study series of commentaries.
